

mix-up (from the British National Corpus)

Note the different ways that 'a mix-up' is used, depending on the situation.

- a mix-up
- a mix-up over, on, in: when the object is abstract, a unit (flight arrangements, the schedule, etc.)
- a mix-up of, between: when the objects is plural (bottles, departments, etc.)

Results of your search

Your query was: a mix-up

"That's even more bizarre, which makes us believe there has been a mix-up of flasks," Grollet said.

There was much hilarity when Geoffrey steamed in ten minutes late pleading a mix-up in his diary.

A council spokesman apologised and blamed a mix-up between departments.

There was a mix-up over payment for a meal at a café, and Chapman was hauled off by a gendarme to the police station.

The problem had been that there had been a mix-up over my return tickets from Oslo and I couldn't get back.

The show is advanced so sluggishly and episodically that, apart from first and last reels, there could be a mix-up in reels without much comment.

Perhaps there's been a mix-up.

If tests confirm there was a mix-up, the parents will have to live with the fact they have been loving someone else's child.

He said: "When I told the nurses, they didn't seem too surprised and it was as if such a mix-up was not uncommon.

First a mix-up in the West Ham defence gave him a clear sight of goal, but Ludek Miklosko threw himself at Smillie's feet to save.

Stunning strikes by Kenny Irons and Pat Nevin levelled matters, with Nevin then capitalising on a mix-up between keeper Gerry Peyton and Shane Westley to grab the winner seven minutes from time.

The manager will play Ryan Giggs from the start after leaving him out of the first leg due to a mix-up over UEFA rules governing foreign and assimilated players.

CHART stars Pop Will Eat Itself blew up when a mix-up stopped them appearing in Sweden.

There was a mix-up of languages.

There's been a mix-up of account numbers or something.

Kelman missed a masterly performance by Byrne against the Blues in the Irish Cup last week — due to a mix-up in flight arrangements.

Then substitute Mark Snodden hit a goal after a mix-up in the Glentoran defence, but by then it was far too late.

There has been a mix-up in the booking. These things happen, you know.

He claimed it was a mix-up.

Leading from a Neil Vasey goal at the break, Aycliffe found Usworth always dangerous until in a five-minute spell midway through the second period a mix-up in the home defence allowed Stuart Howson in to score.

South Shields found themselves having to rely on a mix-up in the defence late in the first half to let Gary Davies in to give them the lead at the interval.

A would-be postie has criticised the Royal Mail for a second class service following a mix-up over job interviews.