

Nongbu-ga

(Chun Hyang Song: Act II, Scene 3)

Vivo

Words and Music: Wm. H. Cleary

cue: BANG JA: Music! Lights!

(Introduction)

3

Eo wa yeo yeo ru sang sa di ya.

5 Girls Join In

Eo wa yeo yeo ru sang sa di ya.

Nongbu-ga

7 (Verse)

1. Far - mer, far - mer, why so tir - ed? Why such a tire - ed old face do I see?

9

I've been push - ing a plow all morn - ing wife has to pull, she's more tir - ed than me!

- 2 Farmer, farmer, why so skinny?
You are the skinniest man in the group.
My mother-in-law came to visit,
She eats the rice and I just get the soup
- 3 Farmer, farmer, why so gloomy?
Such a sad face I would hate to see twice.
Governor Byeon is a savage tiger,
How we would love to poison his rice.
- 4 Traveler, traveler, give us wisdom,
How can we get tiger Byeon into jail?
Ah, just pull out his teeth and his claws,
Tie a gag in his mouth and a knot in his tail.
- 5 Farmers, farmers, just be patient,
Irritability never will win,
Like me, be friendly and peaceful and quiet,
Easy to love - and lazy as sin.
- 6 Traveler, traveler, you're a drunkard,
You drink enough wine for almost ten men.
Oh, my worms are all alcoholic,
Every few miles they're thirsty again.